MAIN LIBRARY

DIRECTORY

PERSONNEL OF INDIANA LIBRARIES

The compilation of this directory was made possible by contribution from the Indiana Library Association. Irene Mason, of the Catalogue Division, Indiana State Library, chairman of the Committee of Junior Members, and Hazel B. Warren, chief of the Extension Division, Indiana State Library, were in charge of the compilation. Reprints may be obtained for twenty-five cents each (this includes postage) from Irene Mason, Indiana State Library, Indianapolis.

The information in this Directory is, in general, of the date March 1, 1937; some entries, however, were made earlier than that, and a few corrections have been made subsequently. Information listed was received from inquiries sent to public, college, university, special, and a limited number of accredited high school libraries.

The term, "Indiana State Library Summer Courses," is used also for the Indiana Library Commission courses given until 1925. A one-year library course, given for several years under the direction of Miss Mercia Hoagland, of Indianapolis, is listed as the Indiana Library School, although from 1905 to 1908 it was called the Winona Technical Institute Library School. The number of credits received in extension courses has not been included unless the information was given in terms of college years.

IRENE MASON, Chairman
Committee of Junior Members of I.L.A.

HAZEL B. WARREN, Chief
Extension Division Indiana State Library.
